

NIA Funded Research at the University of Pennsylvania

House Briefing Senate Briefing

Kathryn Jedrzejewski, PhD
Deputy Director, University of Pennsylvania
Institute on Aging

June 6, 2014

University of Pennsylvania Alzheimer's Disease Core Center

John Trojanowski, MD, PhD
Director

Hughes ME, Peeler J, Hogenesch JB, Trojanowski JQ.
The growth and impact of Alzheimer disease centers as measured by social network analysis.
JAMA Neurol. 2014 Apr 1;71(4):412-20.

Basic Science Aging Research at Penn

With the ultimate goal of identifying new interventions, such as new drugs or lifestyle changes, to treat diseases of aging or increase longevity

Shelley Berger, PhD
Epigenetics

Brad Johnson, MD, PhD
Telomeres

Joe Baur, PhD
Resveratrol, sirtuins, rapamycin

University of Pennsylvania Aging Healthcare Services Research

Rachel Werner, MD, PhD

Assessing the relationship between pay-for-performance and the delivery of high-quality care in the setting of nursing homes

University of Pennsylvania Frailty Research

Anne Cappola, MD

Looking at a combination of ghrelin and resistance training as a possible intervention to improve strength and lower extremity function in frail older individuals.

University of Pennsylvania Alzheimer's Disease Core Center Pilot Research Program

Li-San Wang, PhD
Bioinformatics